

SEMDA GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP AWARD RECIPIENT 2023

Arielle Buckley, University of Michigan

Arielle Buckley is a Master of Public Health Candidate at the University of Michigan School of Public Health. Arielle is driven by her passion for disease prevention and health promotion. After graduating from the University of Michigan she will complete her dietetic internship with Diversify Dietetics. Her career goal is to become a private practice registered dietitian who promotes disease prevention, utilizing culturally sensitive nutrition education. She also hopes to pioneer change in the field of dietetics by advocating for digital interventions that have the potential to improve health outcomes.

As a dietetics student, I have always been passionate about helping people make healthy food choices and improve their overall wellbeing. This scholarship will not only alleviate the financial burden of my dietetic internship but also enable me to focus on my studies and gain invaluable experience in the field of nutrition.

Congratulations Arielle for your achievements. We wish you well.
